Akron still retains the title of "Rubber Capital of the World"; but now it is recognized as a leading manufacturing city with hundreds of diversified industries.

Akron-made products are to be found wherever wheels turn. Aside from thousands of rubber products, Akron area plants turn out automobile rims, clay products, plastics, salt, dies, molds, chemicals and aerospace equipment, parts and components, and batteries

Akron, with 113 motor freight carriers and 58 contract carriers, is the birthplace and center of the trucking industry. Here also is the home of the All-American Soap Box Derby, the American Golf Classic and the World Series of Golf.

The Akron Area Chamber of Commerce provides leadership for all of the Metropolitan Area

"THE RUBBER CAPITAL OF THE WORLD"

Akron, a northern Ohio city of 298,500 persons, located in Summit County with a population of 575,000, has gained fame through the years for outstanding leadership and contributions in many varied fields

The city is probably best known as the "rubber capital of the world." It is the hub of the globe-girdling rubber companies whose vast networks of fabrication plants and retail outlets play such an important role in our economy. This vital Akron-born industry alone represents more than four billion dollars annually in production.

GIANT TIRE MACHINERY

Rubber has been the big employer in Akron for nearly half a century. The city is the headquarters for administration, sales, financing, distribution and research for B. F. Goodrich Co., Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., General Tire & Rubber Co., and Mohawk Rubber Co. Seiberling Rubber Co. is located at nearby Barberton. In addition there are a number of smaller specialty rubber companies in Akron

AIRDOCK AND PORTION OF GOODYEAR AIRCRAFT CORPORATION

Goodyear Aerospace Corporation's impressive Airdock, completed in 1929, was erected to house the rigid airships, USS Macon and USS Akron, each of which was 785 feet long and had a capacity of 6,500,000 cubic feet.

The Dock is approximately a semi-paraboloid shape, well described as a half of a silkworm's cocoon, cut in two the long way. It is 1175 feet long, 325 feet wide and 211 feet high. Its 364,000 square feet of floor area makes it the largest single uninterrupted space yet built.

In a comparative sense, the Dock's height is equal to a 22 story building; it is the largest structure in the world without interior support; ten football games could be played simultaneously under its roof. It is so big, in fact, that the engines on the airships can be "run up" inside the structure without discomfort to workmen or danger of carbon monoxide poisoning.

In effectively launching and docking huge rigid airships, the Dock had to be designed to reduce air-current interference to a minimum. It was with this thought in mind that Dr. Karl Arnstein, GAC's retired Vice President in Charge of Engineering, specified the building as a semi-paraboloid structure.

The most unique feature of the Dock is probably its identical spherical doors with their supporting trucks and operating mechanism, with individual power plants separately housed at each end of the building. The doors are two-piece and shaped somewhat like one-quarter of an orange peel. Each of the four sections weighs 600 tons. The doors are fastened at the top by huge hollow-forged pins 17 inches in diameter and six feet long. The doors rest on 40 wheels set radially on curved standard railroad track. Time of opening or closing is approximately five minutes.

DIVERSIFIED INDUSTRY

Akron is also well known as the birthplace of the trucking industry. The enterprising rubber producers, sensing an important new market for their tires, were among the first industries to ship by truck. Today Akron is headquarters for 113 motor freight companies and 58 contract carriers with more than 17,000 trucks and trailers.

Also located here is the Saalfield Publishing Co., publisher of children's books, the largest concern in its respective field.

Metal working is another important industry. The units of this industry range from small tool and die shops to big factories producing machinery used in the rubber industry and other similar types of business.

Many new industries — such as the Chrysler Corporation Stamping Plant and the Euclid Division of General Motors Corporation — have been attracted to the Metropolitan Area because of the availability of excellent plant sites, exceptional water supply, accessible raw materials, a large pool of technicians, skilled and semi-skilled workers, rail, air, water and motor freight transportation and abundant electric power at low rates.

The diversified list of other products made in Akron area plants includes chemicals and plastics, salt, clay products, paint and varnish, paper and boxboard, porcelain products such as glove forms and insulators, aircraft parts, heating and air-conditioning equipment, storm windows and doors, mattresses and upholstered furniture, concrete blocks, electric motors, wire drawing machinery, marine equipment, molds for rubber and plastic manufacturers, rubber toys, fabricated and wrought iron steel products, tools, both hand and power, and wood turnings.

FINISH LINE AT AKRON'S ALL-AMERICAN SOAP BOX DERBY

Akron has gained world wide fame as the host city for the All-American Soap Box Derby and such famous golf events as the 1960 and 1966 PGA Tournament, the American Golf Classic and the World Series of Golf.

Since 1934, with the exception of four war years, the ALL-AMERICAN SOAP BOX DERBY has carved a significant place for itself as a vital youth event in America. Each year, Akron, Ohio, the home of the ALL-AMERICAN, rolls out the royal welcome mat for 250 local champions from all over the United States and many foreign countries for this "greatest amateur racing event in the world."

The entire business district is lavishly decorated in Derby colors and banners, and Main Street becomes ALL-AMERICAN BOULEVARD for the festivities during "Derby Week." To make certain each "Champ" is identified to the tens of thousands of visitors that pour into Akron, giant placards along the Boulevard feature the name of each boy and the city or country he represents.

The Akron Area Chamber of Commerce, its committee, merchants and the entire community join together to make every Derby Boy feel that he is a true champion, for each entrant in the ALL-AMERICAN has earned the honor of competing for national recognition and over $30,000 in scholarships and other prizes by winning the grand championship in his local derby "back home."

The 250 Champs competing at Akron actually are representing some 80,000 boys who experienced the thrill of creating a racer with their own skill and ingenuity and entering in competition with other fine boys like themselves.

AKRON UNIVERSITY STUDENT CENTER

As a municipal institution serving a world famed industrial area, the University of Akron strives to provide an excellent academic education for the college-age youth of the community. In addition, the University provides facilities for adult education and many civic, cultural and educational community events. In July of 1967, when Akron University becomes a State University, its facilities will provide a greater opportunity for the local community to receive an education

Buchtel College, named for its most generous financial supporter, John R. Buchtel, became the core of the University of Akron in 1913 when all assets of the college were accepted by the City as a foundation upon which the new University would grow.

Today, students can earn bachelors' degrees in the College of Liberal Arts, Engineering, Education, Business Administration and Law.

Masters' degrees are offered in all the colleges, through the Graduate Division. The Doctor of Philosophy degree is offered in Chemistry by the Buchtel College of Liberal Arts.

AKRON YMCA

The Akron Young Men's Christian Association serves 34,468 members, of whom 24,827 are under age 18, in 11 branches in the Metropolitan Akron Area. Programs feature gym and swim classes, boys' clubs, hobbies and crafts, citizenship training, informal education, teen-age parties and special family activities. Attendance at these various activities annually exceeds 1,800,000.

Service For All . . . .

Rated by a national news magazine as "one of 24 nice places to live in the United States," Cuyahoga Falls has traditionally been a city of home owners. With an estimated population of 53,000, there are approximately 15,000 homes of which 82 per cent are owner or buyer occupied.

While most of the residents work in either Akron or nearby Cleveland, the city has much to offer in industrial facilities with over seventy-five plants producing rubber, food and dairy products, furniture, wood products, plastics, machine tools, wire drawing machinery, etcetera. The Falls also has outstanding cultural and recreational facilities for its residents.

The Cuyahoga Falls Chamber of Commerce, an affiliate of the Akron Area Chamber of Commerce, plays an important role in coordinating many of the city's activities.
