PREFACE

---

We present Volume Thirty-one, Akron Directory for 1908, feeling assured that our efforts in producing this issue will be appreciated by patrons and the public generally.

Since the first publication of the Akron Directory each succeeding volume has shown a marked increase in names and this issue is no exception to the rule, as it shows a wholesome growth over 1907, and according to the list of names this year, Akron at present has a population of about Sixty-five Thousand (65,000).

For the loyal support given us by the merchants, manufacturers and professional men, and for the cheerfulness in furnishing information for these pages by the general public we desire to express our grateful appreciation.

Respectfully,

THE BURCH DIRECTORY CO.

June, 1908.

L. H. HORNER, Notary Public

Leading Real Estate Man of Akron.

I Buy and Sell Real Estate.

Good Bargains a Specialty.

Get My Prices Before Buying

I own eighty-five desirable building lots in South Akron, seventy of which are in the Coburn Allotment. I will sell them on easy terms and to desirable parties who wish to build a house I will secure them a liberal system for paying for a home. No agent's commission to pay when you buy direct from me and I have over one hundred customers in South Akron whom I can give as a reference as to my method of doing business.

DIRECTORY SWINDLE.

The Scheme as Usually Operated and How to Deal With the Operator.

HOW IT IS DONE.

A man calls on you and requests that information be given for the forthcoming edition of a proposed Trade Directory or Business Register, or some other high sounding name and attempts to collect money in advance for display headings in black face type. If successful, he requests that a blank be signed showing that the money has been paid. If payment is refused, he requests that you sign a blank showing the display heading is to be discontinued or he offers a complimentary copy of the forthcoming publication to be sent free—except twenty-five (25) cents expressage. It matters not which one of these blanks are signed, the result is the same, as each can be so altered by the printer that it becomes a contract agreeing to pay a sum for advertising in a certain Business Directory, the circulation of which consists only of the one book carried by the swindler.

The man who solicits the order or signature never repeats his visit. The victim of the conspiracy, when the contract is flashed on him later has no recollection of the transaction and innocently pays the swindler rather than enter into a controversy, as he readily sees the signature is genuine.

HOW TO DEAL WITH THE COLLECTOR.

When the collector calls take his bill, contract and book and put them out of his reach, and under no circumstances allow him to again get them in his possession. He will try the baby act by crying, etc., and promise anything if you let him go, but you owe it to yourself and your fellow citizens to help stamp out this swindle, so lock him in a room and call the police.

The collector as a rule only has one contract with him. He usually has a confederate on the outside who is looking out for the police as well as any trouble the collector may become involved in and this confederate has all the other contracts and unless both the inside and outside men can be caught it is difficult to establish a case of conspiracy and fraud. The Association of American Directory Publishers, Wm. H. Bates sec'y, 89 Third Avenue, New York City, offers a reward of $100.00 for the arrest and conviction of just such fellows. For further information address Mr. Bates as above, or The Burch Directory Co., Akron, O.
