Read the opinion of one prominent citizen of this City who is using all furnaces manufactured in this City . . . .

T SCHUNK Toledo, Ohio

DEAR SIR AND FRIEND
Replying to your favor of yesterday, making inquiries as to what I know about the XXth Century Furnaces, will say I have five different furnaces in dwellings in this city. The first one I purchased was an Akron _____, the second an Akron _____ I was induced to try a XXth Century next, and its working was so satisfactory that I have since purchased two additional ones of the same kind. I have found them very satisfactory also very economical in the use of fuel, which is quite an item in a furnace. The design and plan of the fire-pot is all that could be asked, furnishing the air for combustion just where it is needed for good results viz. On the outside of the fuel to be consumed, so that the greatest heat is always closest to the fire-pot giving the best possible results in radiating the heat and getting the largest benefit from the fuel consumed.

If you are looking for a furnace with which to build up a trade against any sort of competition, try the XXth Century and my word for it you will not have cause to regret your choice. Am very glad to have heard from you, and hope you are having a successful trade, and that all is well with you.
Very truly and sincerely yours,
R F PALMER
